To the Union Men of Kentucky.

On the first Monday in August you have another grand battle to fight for the Union and the Constitution. You are then to elect members of the Legislature, in whose Confederacy began, as every statesman who hands will be entrusted the destinies of has ever attained renown in this country Kentucky for many years, perhaps in all time to come. The election, which will be then held, is far more important in its consequences than any yet held since the in. going to pieces without a struggle to mainception of this Secession movement. Speculators have proved that it is the easiest thing in the world to build towns, those who want to live in these paper-made towns have found that there was nothing more difficult than to put them up in working order. Very often they go to nothing, or at least become a straggling row of houses, which seem to have caught the fever and ague from the inhabitants. At last men find out that towns are not to be made on paper, but must grow like the plants

It is very easy generally to show, even disapprove, however, of the argumentative beforehand, why they will fail, if men way in which Charles seeks to insinuate would reflect, and it is easy to see why that his General is a coward. "You can well imagine the poignant shame and grief of a very great number of our officers and men at the enunciation of this order."

Se De Kay is entitled to sympathy, nor can we, without shuddering, fancy Charley's waving his sword above his head and rushing upon the enemy. It is a blessed thing he didn't kill them all, and "sheathe his sword in Northern blood," "when it could so easily be crimsoned." We very much remember that all men cannot be Achilleses, or Hectors, as he is, and, since his Valiancy one of the knights of old, who killed his thousands a day, that General Johnston might be a little less brave and still not a and which he has fortified so strongly that. coward. We agree with Se De Kay's conclusion, however, though he appears to have come to it with a sigh of doubtful mortification. The Courier's war correspondent is beadle? Why don't he put him out? He to assist Gen. Johnston, -the officer who retreated to Winchester for "prudential considerations"-

For several days past the militia have been pouring in to our assistance. One ent is camped very near us, and we have full benefit of their cornstalk soldier ing. I was accustomed to regard the old field musters in Kentucky as the most perfect specimens of what was verdant in military matters, but the maneuvers of these Virginians exceed, in awkwardness, anything ever known or contemplated.

He is not satisfied in another respect. He adds somewhat bitterly: It does not look altogether right, however. that so many stout, hale, and hearty men should have remained at home until the last moment and then be drafted into the

We agree with you, provided this war was righteous, or if those stout, hale, hearty men voted without "coercion," or fear of consequences, for Secession. If they did, "Marry, hang her brock," they are traiterous knaves. This, however, is not all. The cup is not yet full. He goes on to say: Some of the militia have made an excelent speculation out of the war, by acting as substitutes for citizens whose or fear of danger keep them from the wars. ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS IS THE LOWEST PRICE I HAVE YET HEARD AS HAVING BEEN PAID, AND IN SOME NSTANCES FOURFOLD THAT SUM.

Then Se De Kay goes on to add that this lereliction is no index of the sentiment of the people. Wherein we most emphatically disagree with him. We scarcely know how greater one could be imagined. Se De Kay has let, not only one, but a whole litter is, that Virginia has no more to do with the disunion, in true feeling, than Kentucky has, except that she sacrifices her fields to it, which, perhaps, she could not help.

It is all very proper, in the eyes of Secessionists, for Kentuckians to go to and enroll themselves under the Confederate flag, against Kentucky and the Union. It is horrible, however, in their eyes, for Kentuckians to enroll themselves under the stars and stripes at Camp Jo. Holt. Those who leave Kentucky for Camp Boone, enlist themselves against the voice of Kentucky, and stand ready to invade our soil upon any pretext, to precipitate our State out of the Union, while those who go to "Camp Jo. Holt," are pledged to uphold the Government, law, and order, and keep Kentucky in her true position. A pretty set, indeed, are the Secessionists, to complain of the enlistments to sustain the Union cause.

The editor of the Yeoman is terribly afflicted because Gen. Rousseau is getting recruits in Kentucky for his regiments. It is far more excusable in him to get recruits in Kentucky and drill them in Indiana, than to organize them and drill them as members of the State Guard, and forward them to Tennessee to come back to operate against the position of Kentucky neutrality. This is what the managers of the State Guard are doing.

Gen. W. C. Whitaker, of Shelby, has been unanimously renominated as the Union candidate for State Senator in the District composed of the counties of Shelby, Henry and Oldham. Gen. Whitaker was a member of the last Legislature, a firm and decided Union man, and an efficient member

This place still continues the headquarters of the army of the Potomac. There are many indications of an intended forward movement the better to invite the enemy to an engagement, but the work of fortification still continues. By nature, the position is one of the strongest that could have been found in the whole State. About half way between the eastern spur of the Blue Ridge and the Potomac, below Alexandria, it commands the whole country between, so perfectly that there is scarcely a possibility of its being turned. Then hour after hour he sits alone by his neat little pine table, maps, plans and specifications before him, and large open windows behind and around him, at first sight the cold, calculating, unsympathizing mathematician. Every now and then an aid enters with a report or a message, which is delivered in military style, deliberately examined in silence, the corresponding order promptly written out or delivered in as few words as possible and our mathematical iceberg is left alone again. When a visitor drops in however, at a leisure moment, the formality of the officer readily gives way to that easy interchange of civilities which characterizes our people at home, but nothing more. at the table, when the General is daily surrounded by the most distinguished gentlemen of the country, there appears to a distance which I suppose is natural to his position, but which is rarely found else-

The Twelfth was finally sent to their assistance, but the position of the enemy was such as to defy an attack in front. Telegraphic News. Bull's Rux, July 19, 4 P. M .- From careful inquiry and personal observation, the number of wounded on the Federal side mounts to 60 and the killed to 40.

There has been no firing. The Confederates are still in possession of their principal battery.

ions, and not recreating. Batteries are being erected on our side commanding theirs, which are of a subantial character. The indications are that there will not be a general forward movement be ore Sunday morning, unless the enemy shall provoke one. This afternoon an order was received by the troops under General McDowell both at Centerville and Fairfax Courthouse, prohibiting theft of every description, and enjoining respect for persons and property, and stating that the heaviest penalties will be visited on them for infringement of this order. Also, that soldiers will not, at any brigade to time, constitute themselves judges of the acts of Southerners. All rumors of fighting to-day are untrue.

Washington, July 19 .- I learn from sources entitled to unquestioned credit, that the British Government, acting in concert with that of Scance, is about to request of the United States Government that the exemption of one Southern cotton port from the blockade be allowed, so that they may get needful supplies of the staple. You may rest assured that the Administration will, under no circumstances, concede it.

Washington, July 19 .- An army officer who arrived here to-day from General Patterson's division, and who left there yes-terday, states that he had already commenced his line of march for Winchester, but that the main division was moving slowly and with great caution.

It is stated in our city that Col. Hunt of the State Guard has resigned.

In pursuance of previous notice, the tion, adopted unanimously: delegates of the wards composing the nominate a candidate.

Mr. George A. Houghton withdrew his name and moved that Col. Boone be nominated unanimously. Such was preclaimed the will of the meeting, and Col. Boone received the unanimous nomination.

The convention passed a resolution in dorsing the course of Mr. Houghton as a representative of that district in the last Legislature. The proceedings will be found elsewhere.

It is rumored in our city, upon pretty geod authority, that General Buckner of the State Guard has resigned. There is an additional rumor, which lacks confirmation, that he goes into the regular army of the United States. He would be an acquisition

Captain Campbell did not learn any satisfactory details, but states that our troops exhausted all their ammunition, and retired, after severe loss, with their two field pieces. The Fed. eral fleet was lying below Pocatella creek. and the action took place at "Scarey," some distance in the interior. It appears that our troops were sent out with orders to make a reconnoisance, but not to attack the enemy, who were in a strongly enposition, numbering 1,500 strong, unless it appeared the position could be

Captain Campbell reported that Colonel Norton was severely wounded while gallantly encouraging his men to charge, and he was left on the field and captured by the

The extent of our loss is not known, but we infer that it was quite serious. The enemy also suffered severely. Col Lowe sent back during the action for ammunition, and Gen. Cox sent it forward with reinforce-ments, but our troops were met returning from the field. Lieut. Pomeroy, of Ottowa, O., was mortally wounded, and he was sent to this city on the steamer Dunleith, but he expired at Gallipolis One private in the cavalry company which forms part of Gen. Cox's brigade, was killed. Col. Woodruff and Lieut. Col. Neff, of the Second Kontucky Regiment, and Major De Villiers, of the Eighth Ohio, were at the engagement appointed to wait on Col Boone, to inform as spectatore, and when Capt. Campbell left Pocatella creek, twenty hours after the conflict, they had not returned. The inference is strong that they were taken prisoners, and we are afraid our troops met with a severe reverse. Capt. Campbell reports that they fought gallantly and did not retire until their ammunition was com-A REBEL'S STATEMENT

Capt. W. O. Roseberry, who it will be remembered was arrested at Point Pleasant. Va., and taken to Columbus, Ohio, but subsequently released, being charged with the passengers by the steamer Dunleith. The following is his version of the conflict: On the 17th, General Cox ordered the Twelfth Ohio, Colonel Lowe, two companies of the Twenty-first Ohio, together with the Cleveland Artillery and Capt. Rogers' oavalry company from Ironton, Ohio, to cross the Kanawha river at the mouth of Pokey Creek, twenty miles below Charleston, and reconncitre the rebel camp five miles above, on the south side or right hand bank of the Kanawha, three miles below the mouth of Coal river, and to cannonade and draw them out in order to estimate their force, and, if easily captured, to take their batteries, the enemy being fortified When within three hundred yards of the battery, they were fired into by rebels under command of Col. Tompkins, from three to five pieces of artillery, when a general engagement ensued, lasting about two hours, when the rebels were reinforced, and the Federal troops compelled to retreat Colonel Norton, of the Twenty-first Ohio, was wounded, shot in the hip, and taken prisoner; Captain Allen killed—ball in the forehead, just between the eyes; Lieut. Pomeroy was shot through the hip. He died on the Dunleith, when the boat was near Gallipolis. The remains will be Twenty-first Onio, Colonel Norton. During the engagement Col. De Villiers, Eleventh Ohio, Colonel Woodruff, Lieutenant-Colone Neff, and several Captains of the Second Kentucky, mounted, rode up opposite the scene of action, and had not returned to their camp up to twelve M. on the 18th inst The rebels were reported to be 1,500

Washington, July 20. - Senate. - Mr. Hale offered a resolution that the Naval Committee be empowered to inquire into the surrender of the navy yards at Pensacols and Norfolk, with power to send for persons and papers. Referred to Commit-tee on Naval Affairs.

Mr. Johnson, of Tennessee, introduced a bill to provide for the transportation of arms and munitions of war to loyal citizens in the States now in rebellion, and to provide for organizing them into regiments, &c. He said that the loyal citizens in those States felt that the Government was bound to protect them against invasion and insurrection. Referred to Committee on Military Affairs. Mr. Trumbull introduced a bill to provide for the holding of the circuit district courts during temporary insurrection. Referred to Committee on Judiciary. The bill providing for the construction of

The resolution approving the acts of the President was taken up.

Mr. Latham spoke, and alluded to his friends, Breckinridge, Bayard and others, who charged the President with violating the Constitution, but not a word in condem nation of those who openly trampled the Constitution under foot. He said whatever necessity required the President to do to enforce the laws and the Government, was right and proper, even though he might have committed an infraction of the au-thority delegated to him; but he would not sanction the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in Maryland, because he thought that State showed her allegiance by sending members to Congress, and that there was no necessity for such a suspension there, except it was evident that the judiciary of the State was disloyal. No man doubts the loyalty of the Chief Justice.

He thought the increase of the army not warranted by the exigencies of the case, and therefore could not sanction the act. But in regard to the blockade of the ports, a suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in Florida, and all the other acts enumerated in the resolution, he gave the President his

A CURE GUARANTEED WITHOUT THE USE OF MEDICINE BY AN ENTIRELY NEW MEDICATED BATH.

Relief Experienced in Three Days OLD MERCURIAL AND BLOOD DISEASES EN-TIRELY REMOVED, AND THE SYSTEM THOROUGHLY REGENERATED!

Do not Despair .- There is Hope at Last! TWO YEARS AGO EXPERIMENTS WERE INSTI-tituded at our Dispensary with a new method of eliminating the vituo of Syphilis from the system, by means of a new and peculiar Medical Bath. The ex-peri-ent proved a most, wonderful success, and since means or a new and peculiar Medical Bath. In experiment proved a most wonderful success, and since that time nundreds of cases have been treated without a sincle failore. Not a dose of medicine is given in ternally, except in cases of deblitty, where a simple tonic is required. The stomach and internal organs thus escape in urr, and no unpleasant effects are experienced. Oid humans, and the remains of oid diseases lurking in the system, are expelled entirely, and the body restored to a coudition of perfect health. It is a well-known fact that Sybhilitte i seases cannot be cured by internal medicine, notwithstanding many process to do it. There are thousands who have been under the most skillibil treatment for years, and expended hundreds of doljars, who have completely ruined their constitutions by taking mercury and other medicines, without curing the disease; whereas, by this method, in a very short time we are enabled to perfect a cure in every case, no matter how bad.

TETTER AND SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, RINGWORM, SUKE EYES, DROPEY.—Dr. Robert M. Precie writes from Salem, N. V., 12th September, 1599, that he has cured an invetorate case of Dropsy, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous attach of Mulignam Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Enginions by it constantly.

INDEPENDENCE, Preston co., Va., July 6, 1839.

Dr. J. C. Ayer—Str.: I have been afflicted with a pain ful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which barine the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am far better than before I was attacked. I think it a wonderful medicine.

Jules Y. Getchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried everything, and everything falled to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev Mr. Epy, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said ne knew you, and anything you hade was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

DYSPEPSY, HEART DISEASE, FITS, EPILEPSY, MELANCHOLY, NEURALGIA.— Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stimulates the vita functions into vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach Such a remedy has long been required by the necessities of the people, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Any person may learn to operate them in a very short time. Any person may learn to operate them in a very short time.

The great difficulty with all other old-style Machines is too much complication, requiring so much constant adjustment, and such an amount of mechanical skill and ingenuity to use them to advantage, as to render them of little comparative value.

But the Sewing Machines manufactured by Greenman & The are not liable to these objections, as any person, on even a moment's examination, will readily discover. They will do more and better work than any other Machine ever offered to the public, making the most beautiful lock-stitch, alike on both sides. Send for an off-hand specimen of sewing upon any material you wish, and you will then see hoot it is done.
